

Robb Mayers, CEO Outlier Construction

Robb Mayers was born and raised in Southern Oregon, where he developed a connection to nature and a strong sense of community. After graduating from Oregon State, Robb embarked on a journey to Austin, Texas, to kickstart his career in the construction and development industry. As one of the founders of Outlier Construction, Robb serves as the company's CEO, bringing his commitment to craftsmanship, sustainability and community engagement to every project. In 2008, Robb and his wife Maggie returned to Southern Oregon. Since then, Robb has been involved in various nonprofit organizations. Currently, he serves on the boards of the United Way, the Asante Foundation, and the Association of General Contractors.

Robb spends much of his free time outdoors, traveling and exploring new destinations. He and his wife have 2 boys, aged 10 and 8, which keep them very busy. They reside in Medford.

Daniel Marple, CEO Herb Pharm

Daniel Marple joined Herb Pharm as CEO in 2021. Based in Southern Oregon, Herb Pharm, a B Corp with over 225 employees, produces organic herbal supplements that are sold worldwide. For over 45 years, Herb Pharm's commitment to sustainability, social responsibility, and quality has resulted in a market-leading position and a compelling platform to positively impact societal health and the environment.

Prior to joining Herb Pharm, Daniel was the Division Vice President of Abbott's Nutrition Division in Columbus, OH, with general management responsibility over retail brands such as Ensure, Glucerna and B2B products serving the institutional and outpatient medical sectors.

Daniel completed his MBA at the Carlson School of Management, University of Minnesota, and earned his undergraduate degree at Trinity College, University of Toronto. He and his wife Meaghan, along with their three children, Teagan, Maclaren and Fallyn, currently reside in Ashland.

Victor Bautista, Oregon Account Executive Avista

Victor Bautista has been with Avista Utilities for over 25 years serving in a variety of areas including customer service, construction, gas engineering, and is currently in customer solutions. His primary responsibilities include strategically developing and implementing revenue growth, business development, and energy management for Avista's largest-use commercial and industrial gas and electric customers throughout Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Victor and his wife, Amber, have been married for 25 years and have two grown children, Emma, and Carson. They reside in Central Point.

Jessica LeMay, Director of Customer Experience and Billing Hunter Communications

Jessia has lived in Southern Oregon for 30+ years, graduating from Crater High School and later attending courses at RCC and SOU. She was a Certified Pharmacy Technician with Asante for 16 years before starting her tenure in the telecom industry, evolving from an entry-level position to Director.

Jessica's transformative journey reflects her unwavering commitment to excellence and continuous growth, navigating through diverse roles, acquiring invaluable experience at every step. As a Director, she now draws upon this rich background to spearhead innovative initiatives and strategic endeavors. Her professional narrative is characterized by a relentless pursuit of knowledge, adaptability, and a passion for advancing telecommunications. Jessica resides in Grants Pass.